

The Power of Words and Esoteric Freedom

What Are Words?

- Words are symbols that transmit information. The term word is defined as, “A sound or a combination of sounds, or its representation in writing or printing, that symbolizes and communicates a meaning and may consist of a single morpheme or of a combination of morphemes.”
- The term word has a strong connection to the Latin word verbum which means “word” in English. In fact, verbum is one of the origins of the English word verb which means “any member of a class of words that function as the main elements of predicates, that typically express action, state, or a relation between two things, and that may be inflected for tense, aspect, voice, mood, and to show agreement with their subject or object.”
- Verbs are often used to express action. It is important to know that action creates movement and vibration. Phonetically, vibration is “verbration”. The word/verb/verbum is what creates vibration/verbration.

- Another Latin word that has a connection to the word verb is verbena which means “leafy branch” or “twig from aromatic trees”. What is a branch or twig made of? It is made of wood! The root word of verbena is the Latin root verb, meaning “word” in English. Phonetically, the term word sounds like wood.
- The information in the previous paragraph and slide shows the connection between the terms verb, vibration, action, word and wood. Keep this in mind as we explore deeper into this presentation.
- To understand what words are on a deeper level, we need to investigate the Greek word λόγος (logos). According to NewWorldEncyclopedia.org, logos “is often translated into English as “Word,” but can also mean thought, speech, meaning, reason, proportions, principle, standard, or logic, among other things. In religious contexts, it can indicate the divine Word, wisdom, or truth.” (Emphasis added)

- Britannica.com defines logos as, “the divine reason implicit in the cosmos, ordering it and giving it form and meaning.” Many linguists pronounce it “lah gahs”. Did you notice that the first syllable “lah” sounds like “law”? The Laws of Nature are the natural laws that give order to the universe. Hence, the term logos which is phonetically “lah gahs” or “law gahs”.
- According to YourDictionary.com, logos means “... the source that controls the universe, the written word or inspiration of God, or a logic and rational argument.” (Emphasis added) It also defines it as, “in classical Greek philosophy, reason regarded as constituting the controlling principle of the universe and as being manifested by speech”.
- To understand the term word and logos on a spiritual level, we need to turn our attention to the Book of John. In the Bible verse John 1:1, it says, “In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God.”
- An important fact about the Book of John is that it was originally written in Greek. Remember, the term Word means “Logos” in Greek and Logos means “... the source that controls the universe ...”

- In other words, “In the beginning was the Source.” The Source of what? The Source of the codes of reality. These codes were written by God and He wrote them into the fabric of space using letters and numbers. Some of these letters were used to create DNA. Today, scientists often refer to them as genetic letters.
- The letters and numbers of God have the power to create words, codes and formulas, which can be used to express the Laws of Nature. These Divine Laws give order to the universe and make life possible. This is why words have the power to create worlds and life.
- Phonetically, the term word sounds like the term world which sounds similar to the term whirled, the past tense of the term whirl, meaning “to turn around, spin, or rotate rapidly”. When you really think about it, words have the power to create whirls of energy to express the will of God.
- Before you took your first breath as a living baby, you were whirled into physical existence. In other words, you were whirled into the physical world. The evidence of this is the fact that your physical body is made of atoms. What do atoms do? They spin or rotate rapidly. In other words, it was the atoms that whirled you into physical existence through the power of the divine letters that make up words. These same atoms are constantly whirling to create worlds.

- Phonetically, the word atom sounds similar to the word adam. In Hebrew, the word אָדָם (adam) means “man”. The name Adam is etymologically defined by EtymOnline.com using these exact words: “Biblical name of the first man, progenitor of the human race, from Hebrew adam “man,” literally “(the one formed from the) ground” (Hebrew adamah “ground”)”. (Emphasis added)
- An important word that has a strong connection to the term word is grammar, which means “the study of the way the sentences of a language are constructed; morphology and syntax.”
- According to an article titled Trivium, which was published on Wikipedia.org, grammar is “the art of inventing symbols and combining them to express thought”. These symbols that are used to express thought are known as letters and words.

- One of the origins of the word grammar is the Old French word gramaire, which means “(magic) incantation, spells, mumbo-jumbo”. (Emphasis added) This is why the act of writing words is called spelling. Did you notice that the word spelling has the word spell in it?
- The Old French word gramaire has a strong connection to the English word grimoire, which is defined by Dictionary.com using these exact words: “a manual of magic or witchcraft used by witches and sorcerers.” (Emphasis added)
- Because letters and words are symbols, and grammar is a magic art of inventing symbols to express thought, when you use grammar to write words, you are playing with sigils. The word sigil means “a sign, word, or device held to have occult power in astrology or magic”. (Emphasis added) In other words, writing or speaking words is an art of magic.

The Power of Words

- Words are powerful because they carry spiritual seeds that can manifest energy into matter. When words are spoken aloud, they transform into sound, frequency and vibration, which are some of the fundamental building blocks of matter. Because of their magic power, words have the power to shape matter and thereby change reality.
- The evidence that spoken words (sounds) have the power to change reality can be seen in cymatics which is “the study of visible effects of sound and vibration.” In other words, it is the study of the effects that sound waves have on matter.

- On a deeper level, all shapes of matter are made of sacred geometry. Even clouds and trees are made of sacred geometry. To be more specific, the geometric patterns of clouds and trees are called fractal geometry. Sacred geometries are used by Nature to create material objects and life. The power that allows Nature to create sacred geometry is the Word.
- Let us turn our attention back to the connection between the terms word, verb and wood. In one of the previous slides, I said that the “root word of verbena is the Latin root verb, meaning “word” in English.” I also said that “the term word sounds like wood” and “the term Word means Logos in Greek.”
- The root word of the Greek word logos is log which means “word” in English. An important word that has a strong connection to the root word log is lodge.

- The word lodge means, “A small house on the grounds of an estate or a park, used by a caretaker or gatekeeper.” It can also mean, “A local chapter of certain fraternal organizations.” One of these fraternal organizations is the Freemasons, which is why they use the term Masonic Lodge to describe the private place where they meet.
- The word lodge is sacred to certain fraternal organizations because it has a strong connection to the word logos. Could this be the main reason that many sacred teachings of Freemasonry are done in masonic lodges?
- It is interesting to know that when the trunk of a tree is horizontally cut into a log, its interior has rings that resemble waves, like the ripples in water. The word log means “a portion or length of the trunk or of a large limb of a felled tree.”

- To connect the dots, the word log comes from the Greek root log, meaning "word" which is phonetically "wood". Log is also the root word of Logos, meaning "Word". In English, the word log is used to represent a part of a tree made of wood.
- An interesting fact about wood is that it has good acoustical property, which is why wood is widely used to make musical instruments that produce sound; the type of sound that produces harmonic waves, creating vibration or "verbration" to manifest sacred geometries, worlds and life. Hence, the biblical saying, "In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God."

- The evidence that wood and sound are strongly related can be seen in the words timber and timbre. The word timber is an anagram for the word timbre. Timber means “the wood of growing trees suitable for structural uses” and timbre means “the characteristic quality of a sound, independent of pitch and loudness, from which its source or manner of production can be inferred.” (Emphasis added)
- Because wood has a strong connection to sound, it is a very important element for magicians. In fact, during ancient times, many Druids and magicians used the wood of the holly tree to make magic wands. Today, this tradition is still practiced by certain magicians.
- The word holly is phonetically holy. Both of these words are strongly connected to the word holiday which is phonetically “hollyday” or “holyday,” meaning “a sacred day of magic.” One of the most popular holidays/holydays/magic-days is Christmas which is why the stems, leaves, and berries of holly trees are often used as Christmas decorations.

- We all know that words are made up of letters. One of the origins of the word letter is the Latin word littera (also litera, meaning “letter of the alphabet.” Phonetically, “letter” is “let her” which conveys a sense of surrender. Letter is also phonetically ladder.
- One of the main elements that is used to make ladders is wood. Ladders allow you to ascend to high places or descend to low places. The letters of words also allow you to ascend to higher states of consciousness or lower states of consciousness.
- When the term “wood” is written backward, it transforms into “doow”. Phonetically, “doow” is “do” or “dew”. When you combine the two “o’s” of the word “doow,” you get “dow” which is pronounced “dao.” In Chinese, the word Dao means ““way,” “road,” “path,” “course,” “speech,” or “method.”” (Emphasis added)
- In English, do means “to perform (an act, duty, role, etc.)” and dew means “moisture condensed from the atmosphere, especially at night, and deposited in the form of small drops upon any cool surface.” Dew plays an important role for creating sap, a sugary substance that is essential for nourishing the wood of trees. When you do something in relation to your words, your action also nourishes your words.

- In the Bible, the word dew was used to describe a sacred nourishment which was called “the dew of heaven”. According to the Bible, this sacred nourishment was used by the children of Israel as food.
- The word Israel secretly means “God”. Israel is Is-Ra-El which represents the goddess Isis, the sun-god Ra and the god El. Isis represents the Holy Spirit, Ra represents the Son/Sun and El represents God or the Father. Together, they are known as the Holy Trinity which means “the Father, the Son, and the Holy Spirit existing as one God”. This is why Israel/Is-Ra-El secretly means “God”.

¹⁵ And when the children of Israel saw it, they said one to another, It is manna: for they wist not what it was. And Moses said unto them, This is the bread which the Lord hath given you to eat. [Emphasis added] [Exodus 16:14-15 (KJV)]

- The word manna means “the food miraculously supplied to the Israelites in the wilderness.” To understand manna on a spiritual level, we need to investigate the Bible verse Exodus 16:31 (KJV).

³¹ And the house of Israel called the name thereof Manna: and it was like coriander seed, white; and the taste of it was like wafers made with honey. [Emphasis added]

- A word that has a strong connection to the word manna is mannitol. Dictionary.com defines mannitol using these exact words:

Chemistry. a white, crystalline, sweetish, water-soluble, carbohydrate alcohol, $C_6H_8(OH)_6$, occurring in three optically different forms, the common one being found in the manna of the ash Fraxinus ornus and in other plants: [...] [Emphasis added]

- The definition of the word mannitol reveals that mannitol is a carbohydrate alcohol that is white and has a sweet flavor. In other words, it is a sugary substance. Remember, the Bible verse Exodus 16:31 said, "And the house of Israel called the name thereof Manna: and it was like coriander seed, white; and the taste of it was like wafers made with honey." (Emphasis added) What does honey taste like? It tastes sweet!

- Manna is said to come from Heaven; hence, the saying, “manna from heaven”. The word heaven comes from the Old English word heofon, meaning “home of God”. This can be translated as the “temple of God”, “kingdom of God” or “heaven”.
- The temple of God or heaven is physiologically located between the temples of the head. The word temple means, “A building devoted to the worship of a god or gods.”
- An important information to know about manna is that it has a strong connection to Jesus. Keep in mind that manna is a sweet bread from heaven. Hence, the Bible verse John 6:51 (KJV): “⁵¹ I am the living bread which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this bread, he shall live for ever: and the bread that I will give is my flesh, which I will give for the life of the world.” (Emphasis added)

- To connect the dots, dew is used by trees to create sap to nourish their wood. The word sap comes from the Sanskrit word sabar, meaning “sap, milk, nectar”. When you do something to support your words, your action (“do”) nourishes your words. The term word is phonetically wood. The dew of a tree esoterically represents the dew of the brain. The dew that is needed to create manna or sap.
- The brain is esoterically known as the tree of life. To be more specific, in physiology, the tree of life is the area of the brain called arbor vitae which literally means “tree of life”. The manna/dew of heaven/bread from heaven/Jesus is what nourishes the brain/tree of life.
- So, how does all this information relates to words? Because words have the power to nourish the mind, similar to how manna nourishes the brain. When the mind is nourished with empowering and healing words, it becomes more immune to disease. When the mind is healthy, the brain is also healthy, which in turn makes the body healthy.

Word Magic and Esoteric Freedom

- In the beginning of this presentation, I said that “words are powerful because they carry spiritual seeds that can manifest energy into matter.” In many ways, words are spiritual seeds because they have the power to stimulate the mind to produce thoughts which are energetic seeds. The seed that sparked the manifestation of the universe was the Word.
- The Word is the original seed that manifested the idea of using letters to program life. The Bible verse Luke 8:11 (NKJV) even says, “Now the parable is this: The seed is the word of God.” (Emphasis added)
- An important information to know about a seed is that it is the nucleus of a thing or being, and therefore is the beginning of that thing or being. When you relate this to the Bible verse John 1:1, the Word is the Seed that sparked the manifestation of the universe. Because of this, it is God or the Source. The word source is defined as, “any thing or place from which something comes, arises, or is obtained; origin”.

- Because words are seeds, when they are deeply planted in the mind, they can grow and produce ideas. With enough energetic nourishment or programming, these ideas can manifest into reality. Depending on what the ideas are based on, they can heal or harm the mind. Everything that exists on Earth was once a thought or idea before it manifested into reality.
- Besides being seeds, words are also codes. This is why a man who only speaks English can not understand a man who only speaks Chinese. All languages of mankind operate similar to computer languages. Computers can only read languages that they have been programmed to process. The human brain operates like a computer and therefore can only interpret languages that it has been programmed to process.
- Because words have the magic power to program the mind, they are heavily used by corporations, such as the government and legal system, to hypnotize your mind and control you. In fact, the government and legal system are two of the biggest practitioners of word magic, which is "the art of communicating using sacred sounds and symbols to direct and control energy to produce certain desired effects."

- The most common and powerful word magic is the Name Spell. It is powerful because it can be used to program your mind to make you believe to be something that you are not. Based on my knowledge and research, the Name Spell is the most effective spell for enslaving you.
- Having a name can be a wonderful thing, but when you do not know how to use it wisely, it can be a curse and prevent you from achieving esoteric freedom. The word esoteric comes from the Greek word esoterikos which means “belonging to an inner circle”. However, the Greek word eso means “within”. Therefore, esoteric freedom means “inner freedom”. To be truly free, you need to first free yourself from within. In other words, you have to free your mind before you can free your body.
- One of the ways that your name can curse you is when you give it too much power, allowing your name to strongly bond to your mind, causing you to think that your name is who you really are. Your name can be used to trick your mind and control it to a significant degree. It can do this because it is made up of sigils (letters). Because your name can be used to control your mind, it is essential to learn how to use your name wisely, so you do not become a victim of your name.

- There are many versions of your name. The two versions that I will talk about are your legal name and your genuine name. Knowing the difference between these two names is essential for freeing yourself from the legal system and the artificial matrix.
- Your genuine name, also known as your given name, is the name given to you by your mother and father. As for your legal name, it is a name created by agents of a thought collective known as the government. Your legal name is a “counterfeit” of your given name, because it is used by the government to trick you to do business with its corporations. However, when you take control of your legal name and use wisely, it can help you to live a better life.
- Your legal name is a very important tool for the government, because it uses your legal name to attach your identity to it, so its agents can identify you. This allows the government to do business with you or summon you to appear in front of its agents. Without a legal name or name, the government has no power to do business with you or summon you to appear in court. This is how powerful a name is.

- Black's Law Dictionary (6th edition) defines the word name using these exact words: "The designation of an individual person, or of a firm or corporation. Word or combination of words used to distinguish person or thing or class from others."
- The word corporation is defined by Black's Law Dictionary (6th edition) using these exact words: "An artificial person or legal entity created by or under the authority of the laws of a state. An association of persons created by statute as a legal entity." The word legal secretly means "without substance" which is why the legal system deals with legal fictions. Therefore, in law, a legal entity or person is a legal fiction.
- The same law dictionary defines person using these exact words: "In general usage, a human being (i.e. natural person), though by statute term may include labor organizations, partnerships, associations, corporations, legal representatives, trustees, trustees in bankruptcy, or receivers."

- To connect the dots, the name is used by the legal system to practice the “color of law” so it can trick you to agree to be a person, which is a legally dead entity with no natural rights.
- The legal system practices the “color of law” because it is a system that uses word magic to trick you to agree to be something not of substance or something that appears to be real. In other words, it wants you to be spiritless and unlawful (without substance), so it can label you as a dead person, allowing it to have jurisdiction over you. This is possible because a dead person (legal fiction) has no natural rights.
- The legal system is the “land” of the DEAD, so it has jurisdiction over you when you agree to be your legal name which is a legal fiction, also known as an artificial person. All names are fictions. Names are NOT living men and women.
- As the living man or woman, you are made of substance and have a body made of flesh and blood. Your name has no substance and thereby is a concept that only exist in your mind. This is word magic at its finest. Keep in mind that word magic can be used for “good” or “evil” purposes.

- You can not be free until you stop being something that you are not. You can not achieve esoteric freedom until you know who you truly are. So, stop thinking that you are a name and learn to control your name. Your name is your property. However, to gain control of it, you need to stop being a fiction. The key to doing this is to learn how to use words wisely.
- Words are the most powerful weapons for protecting you from the false gods, such as the government. Did you notice that the term words is an anagram for the term sword? Move the letter "s" in the term words to the left of the letter "w" and you get the term sword.
- Words are like swords because they can be used to "cut" you. In many ways, words are more powerful than swords because they can cut you at the deepest level of your soul. This is why the Bible verse Hebrews 4:12 (NKJV) says, "For the word of God is living and powerful, and sharper than any two-edged sword, piercing even to the division of soul and spirit, and of joints and marrow, and is a discerner of the thoughts and intents of the heart."

Because words are powerful, please use words wisely.
